The May event of the Joomla Melbourne User Group is still on tonight at Joe's Garage. Instead of being a thinktank session, it's now just a social night..

So please, hang out, take a few photos and tag them with "joomlamug" on Flickr, and talk about the best content management system in the world.

One of the many Joomla!MUG administrators, Lawrence Meckan, will not be present, which means the MUG itself won't be present (though may make an appearance via Flickr as an apology item).
