Andrew Eddie (Joomla core developer) and Dinah Randall are going to be running some Joomla 1.5 training events for Joomla implementors/designers/developers (as opposed to end users, who come later). They are currently going for one-day events in Sydney and Brisbane, and are also open to running one in Melbourne, if there is demand.

If anyone is interested in a formal training day for 1.5 can you please register you interest here:

The draft programme for the day can be seen here:

Melbourne will probably be late November but they'll need a good indication of numbers to be able to go ahead.
